

CONTENTS

Preface.....	ix
One: Conquest of the Prairie West.....	1
New Approaches to Aboriginal History.....	2
The Cree on the Prairies.....	4
Aboriginal Cosmology.....	5
The Fur Trade.....	6
Post-Contact Cree Movement on the Plains.....	8
Horse Wars, 1800-1850.....	9
Buffalo Wars, 1850-1870.....	10
Decline of the Fur Trade and Buffalo Culture.....	10
The European Worldview.....	11
The European Critique of Aboriginal Life.....	13
The Treaty Process.....	15
Two: The Material Culture of Fort Battleford.....	18
The Tradition of Forts in Canada.....	19
Evolution of Fort Battleford's Layout.....	20
Victorian Architectural Traditions on the Prairies.....	24
The Wacousta Syndrome and the Garrison Mentality.....	28
Three: Administration of the Law at Fort Battleford: 1876-1885.....	32
The Mission of Law and Order.....	33
The NWMP as Agents of the National Policy.....	35
The Relationship Between the NWMP and the Aboriginal Peoples Through the Acculturation Process.....	37
The Emergence of Government Aboriginal Policy.....	43
The NWMP as Enforcers of Government Policy.....	45
Four: The Social and Economic Life of Fort Battleford.....	49
Social Life at the Mounties' Barracks.....	55
The Economy.....	60
Aboriginal Women and the NWMP.....	62
Five: Fort Battleford in 1885.....	64
Life at Fort Battleford.....	65
The Frog Lake Killings.....	70
Waiting for Colonel Otter.....	73
Otter Arrives.....	75
The Battle of Cut Knife Hill.....	78
Aboriginal Trials.....	79
The View of a Local Farm Instructor.....	83
A Necessary Revision.....	87
Six: Years of Waiting: 1885-1897.....	89
Controlling the Natives.....	89
Monitoring Measures.....	94
Government Policy.....	96
Changing Attitudes of the NWMP and the Canadian Government.....	97
The Almighty Voice Incident.....	100
Seven: Fort Battleford as an Historic Site.....	103
Conclusion.....	110
Appendix A.....	112
Appendix B.....	113
Notes.....	114
Bibliography.....	122
Index.....	128