I wish to thank Dr. Claire Lapointe, Université Laval, for her unwavering support and her critical appraisal of this project as it evolved from a need, to a desire, to an idea and finally to an actual book. I'd also like to recognize Professor Bernard Nadeau from Université de Moncton who, over the years, has been a stalwart friend in need/indeed and an educator with a flair for intuition. Finally, this book would have never seen print without the unconditional support from my friend and colleague Dr. David Kaufman of Simon Fraser University.
