

Since receiving her Ph.D in French literature, Helen Waldstein Wilkes spent thirty years teaching at every level in Canada and in the U.S. Her research interests include cross-cultural understanding, language acquisition and neurolinguistics. Now retired and living in Vancouver, she is actively examining her own cultural inheritance and its impact.