FIGURES AND TABLES

FIGURES

Figure 2.1 Community of Inquiry model 47
Figure 2.2 Activity theory view of a human activity system 51
Figure 2.3 Transactional distance quadrants 63
Figure 2.4 The relationship between transactional control and transactional distance 66
Figure 2.5 Paulsen’s model of cooperative freedoms 67
Figure 2.6 Decagon of cooperative freedoms 69
Figure 3.1 Social forms for learning: sets, nets, and groups 73
Figure 3.2 Venn diagram view of the typology 83
Figure 3.3 View of the typology as a continuum 83
Figure 4.1 Notional levels of control in a typical paced course 99
Figure 5.1 Notional cooperative freedoms in a network 138
Figure 6.1 Notional cooperative freedoms in sets 172
Figure 7.1 A model of how a collective forms 205
Figure 8.1 Screenshot of Elgg’s fine-grained access controls 240
Figure 8.2 Profile page on the AU Landing, showing widgets, tabs, and the “Explore the Landing” menu 254
Figure 8.3 COMP 266 group profile page on the Landing 265

TABLES

Table 1.1 Examples of social software 11
Table 1.2 Functions of educational social software 30
Table 3.1 Support for social forms in some common social software 79
Table 3.2 Groups, nets, sets, and collectives compared 89